

MYTHS, FOLKLORE &

Carmarthen coraclers were brought up in the traditions and beliefs of the forefathers. They were taught to respect the wildlife.

The Swan

The swan was a love bird, and no one would think of doing harm to the bird.

Dragonfly

If a dragonfly happened to land on your coracle, then the coracler would make sure not to wipe it off.

If you did it would go straight to tell the Devil about you.

The Seal

Coraclers believed that the seals carried the souls of one of the old coraclers.

When he died the spirits of the two went together to Heaven.
